

Does living by the coast negatively impact palliative and end-of-life care outcomes?

ECCH is assisting with a research study exploring inequality of provision and access to palliative care in a coastal region.

As part of our ongoing commitment to improving healthcare, ECCH patient files may be accessed to provide data to support the above research study.

To find out more about the study, our data policy or to opt out of research activity, please contact:

research@ecchcic.nhs.uk